

Wood featured speaker at community watch meeting

The Kittrell Community Watch recently held its January meeting at the Kittrell Community House.

Edward Woodlief, president, called the meeting to order.

Dr. Carolyn Roy delivered the invocation.

The speaker was Dr. Gene Wood, president of the Henderson-Vance Community Watch Association. Wood spoke about the goals of the association, which include encouraging the formation of new groups and facilitating the exchange of information across the 48 established community watch groups in Vance County.

Wood also spoke on what he saw as the main challenges in Vance County, touching on jobs, education and crime, and he emphasized the importance of community watch groups and community involvement.

The association sponsors quarterly meetings for all residents of Vance County. The next meeting is scheduled for Feb. 27 at Maria Parham Medical Center.

The Kittrell Community Watch will next meet on March 20.

Dr. Gene Wood (left), joined by Edward Woodlief, was the speaker at a recent meeting of the Kittrell Community Watch. Wood is the new president of the Henderson-Vance Community Watch Association, and Woodlief is the president of the Kittrell Community Watch.

